

CONTINUING THE TRADITION OF BLACK GIVING

In this season, Black families and communities are coming together to celebrate one another, help and share resources. Unerased Black Women Speak has compiled this resource list for those looking for support and those willing to assist their community this holiday season. Give Directly

GiveDirectly is a nonprofit that lets donors send money directly to the world's poorest households. Believing that people in poverty deserve to choose how best to improve their lives, the group has delivered $900M+ in cash directly into the hands of over 1.7 million people living in poverty since 2009.

BUYING BLACK

As an extension of the mass blackout, some organizations have curated lists of Black owned and progressive merchants they're encouraging people to support.

Free DC Where to Shop

Word in Black's If You're Gonna Shop Make It Black

BLACK CHARITABLE GIVING

National organizations that provide opportunities and resources on a local level.

National Black United Fund

UNCF

CARES National Mentoring Network

RESOURCE DIRECTORIES

Directories and hotlines for local resources.

Feeding America

Find Your Local Food Bank

United Way 211 Hotline

Confidential 24/7 call center connects people with locally available help. 211 is free to use. And it's available in 180+ languages.